HATHAWAY BROWN
Learning for Life

When Emily Weinberg broke her back and her wrist in a zipline-accident the summer before her junior year, some might have thought her days of playing field hockey had come to an end. But she never thought so. Through her remarkable will and determination, and the help of her teammates, coaches, and teachers, Emily was back on the field in just a few months. Last year, she led the Blazers to State Runner-Up, and she was named Field Hockey Player of the Year by The Plain Dealer. The 2012 HB graduate brought her talents to Georgetown, where she now is a force to be reckoned with on and off the field. Resiliency is one of the hallmarks of an HB education. Our students prove every day that there's no limit to what you can do when you believe in yourself.

For girls across Northeast Ohio, an HB education is a real game-changer.

WE LEARN NOT FOR SCHOOL, BUT FOR LIFE

Founded in 1876, Hathaway Brown is committed to a fusion of academic and experiential learning. This co-ed Early Childhood and all-girls’ K-12 independent day school focuses on educational innovation as it prepares students to rise boldly to the challenges of our times and live out the HB motto of learning "not for school, but for life."

HB’s inclusive environment, outstanding faculty, and unique programs draw families from 72 communities across Northeast Ohio to its beautiful 16-acre Shaker Heights campus, which houses an aquatics center, invention lab, visual and performing arts spaces, and working television studio.

Immersive academic, service and cultural opportunities abound, and graduates attend many of the country’s top universities. HB offers a one-to-one computing program and financial aid, and extensive transportation options are available.
